

What can you do with a jar of tahini?

If you bought a jar of tahini on impulse or out of curiosity, used some of it, and now the remainder sits patiently at the back of your pantry - this class is for you! You'll discover a variety of ways to use tahini, from simple recipes that require only mixing this smooth, wholesome paste with other ingredients, to baking and sweet creations. The tasting menu will include several tahini spreads, a tahini-and-seeds loaf, tahini cookies, and tahini chocolate fudge. The class will combine demonstrations and hands-on experience. All the prepared dishes will be served throughout the event or packed to take home.
